BUILDING COVERED WITH ANGEL HAIR

Salt Lake City, Utah- October 19, 1962 - (LS) - Globes of white, sticky angel hair fell from the sky Thursday, October 18, and settled in balls and sheets over much of the Utah Power & Light Company, Gadsby Plant. Some pieces were 60 and 70 feet long, and gave the appearance of a tattered parachute. Stretched far enough, it would disappear into nothingness. Some 50 employees first saw the white material high in the sky at about 2:00 P.M. The material came from the North and fell from the sky for 15 or 20 minutes, apparently mostly in the area of the Gadsby plant. Dr. Grant Wynn of the State Health Department, informed of the phenomena on the 19th, said he had no guess as to what the substance might be. "ANTI-FREEZE" MAY SAVE MARTIANS

Washington, D.C. - October 20, 1962- (LS) - Many Scientists now believe life thrives on Mars. Dr. Frank Salisbury of Colorado State University said in an article published last Spring that available evidence indicates that Martian life is well-adapted and flourishing. A recent suggested answer as to how Martian life survives the planet's cold nights is that Martians may, like the radiators of cars, use some type of "anti-freeze" to keep them alive. Salisbury said that "We should be prepared to encounter some interesting surprises in biochemistry" on Mars. The first space shot to Mars, scheduled for 1964, will probably carry a tiny instrument known as Gulliver, which will be used to determine whether life does indeed exist on Mars. Several weeks ago, Rockford, Illinois police were alerted by reports of a strange object seen by early-rising residents. Upon investigation, the object proved to be a 22-foot-high balloon, launched by a group of local teenagers. If you come across any reports made in this area, in recent weeks, please take this under consideration when evaluating the report. (ROAP).
